Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR)

It is the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation. This is a European regulation for the transparency of information on the sustainability of investment funds. This regulation allows us to be aware of the level of ESG (environmental, social and corporate governance criteria) involvement of a product. The SFDR legislation asks asset managers to classify and frame each of their investment products under one of these three items:

Article 6 "without sustainability goals" That is, investment products that do not consider ESG risks or that are expressly declared as "non-sustainable".	Article 8 "promote social and environmental initiatives along with traditional performance targets" This means that, although they do not have a specific or defined sustainable objective, they do seek to promote the so-called ESG characteristics.	Article 9 "with explicit sustainability goals" These are all those investment products that have a clear sustainability objective that they must reflect, as well as the way in which they are seeking to achieve it.
